PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

2901 Silverleaf Dr.
Austin, TX 78757
512-452-2675

Fellow Members — IT IS LATER THAN YOU REALIZE — when you read this there will be fewer than 3 days left to send your nominations for TNA officers to the secretary. To be specific, the nominations must be in the hands of the secretary by Jan 5, 1987. Not very far away. The By Laws provide that nominations must be in writing accompanied by an acceptance and a short autobiography of the nominee. Only clubs may nominate a candidate for the office of district governor and only for the district in which that club is located. The other elected officers may be nominated by any club or member in good standing. Remember January 5th is the deadline.

If you have not already done so please send the secretary your annual dues $10.00 and let it be paid by Jan 1, 1987. You can save your association's money in postage and you can save the secretary a lot of headaches and me by paying your dues NOW. Don't wait until you get your dues notice. You know you are going to read so why not do it now. Besides, the time you save our secretary means more time she can spend with her family and me. And I like that idea!

Now, I will give you a report on the recent board meeting held on September 28, 1986. Plans for the 1987 convention to be held in San Antonio are just about complete. Outstanding exhibits will be on hand from both the United States and Mexico mints. What an honor it is to have both mints represented. The board voted to approve a 3 month trial run for free member ads in the TNA NEWS. Watch these pages for more information as plans are made to give this a try.

From time to time the board is asked to waive the 3 year member in good standing rule in order to become a life member. This proposal was again presented. A motion to this effect was made but there being no second, the motion died. This means we still require the three year member in good standing policy.

At this writing we still have nothing definite for a 1988 convention site. However we have accepted Fort Worth's invitation for the

THE COINAGE OF AEGINA

Carl Fogarty
Houston, Texas

Until the conquest by Athens in 456 B.C. Aegina was one of the greatest commercial cities in Greece. And it was the earliest Greek city-state to adopt the use of coined money. The coinage of Aegina exhibits considerable uniformity in type, a uniformity which characterized it as not merely local, but also international coinage.

Up to the time of the Persian War the coinage of Aegina was the only univocal & recognized medium of exchange. All of the coinage of Aegina consisted of a standard obverse and reverse. The obverse showed a centaur with front and back legs extended while the reverse was one and nine square divided into angular compartments. The design lasted from about B.C.

The standard over of the Aegira was the over stated of 12½ gram. They also had division courage such as division 6½ gram, tritab 3½ gram, double 2½ gram, trihemisob 1½ gram, over 4 gram, hemisob 1½ grams, and the tetartemorin 1½ gram.

There was little to go for, except the courage of Aegidius himself, at 20 years. It should be noted that the rough impression on the reverse of the coin, which was not changed because of a lack of care on the part of the engraver, is not

went to Sicily, where he had expected the Agrigentines to attack him. In the period after his return from Sicily in 339 BC, he later said that there were no troops, traceable back to his Agrigentum days, in 340 BC.
However, there were troops available at Syracuse.

Aegina, who in 456 B.C. lost its power over commerce to Athens and was eventually taken into the Roman Empire in 130 B.C. can be looked upon as a city that helped bring us coinage as we know it today.

The last bit of news for this month is that we now have a legal advisor. Joe Olson of Waco has very generously consented to serve us in that appointed office. Joe has been a credit to the Waco Coin Club, and I know that he will work with, and for, TNA. Welcome, Joe, we are pleased to have you.

PLEASE DON'T FORGET THE NOMINATIONS WHICH MUST SOON BE IN, AND SEND IN YOUR 1987 DUES. Thanks, and I'll talk to you next month.

THE JOYS OF BECOMING A COLLECTOR

Bernard Loebe
Houston, Texas

Most people are collectors. This custom dates back so far that no one can accurately establish the first collectors. What do people collect? Old cars, beer cans, matchbook covers, baseball cards, old bottles . . . you name it and someone collects it.

Coin collecting is something the entire family can participate in. The joy of collecting coins increases with your knowledge and additions to your collection.

With very few exceptions, today's well-known collectors with their quantities of rare and beautiful coins started off, years ago, filling in the spaces of inexpensive cent or nickel coin folders or albums. They obtained the coins they needed by searching through hundreds of coins until they found the date and or mint-mark that was lacking. The coins did not have to be, and were almost never shiny new ones. You looked for the best coin that showed the date and the little "S" or "D." If you were fortunate enough to have a coin dealer in your town, you might buy a few inexpensive coins that were scarce and hard to find in your loose change.

To the new collector (later you'll be a "numismatist"), the joy and excitement will be with you and your family as your collection grows and expands into other types of coins. World coin collecting is inexpensive (at first) and educational in a fun way. You will see coins from countries you didn't know existed and try to decipher the strange symbols and words. These coins are plentiful and you can get a handful for only a few dollars.

Of course, as the collector absorbs all he can from library books or friendly dealers, he will want to invest in a few recognized world coin books where the real history of these coins will be revealed. Perhaps you will want to "specialize" in a certain country or topics on coins where you can concentrate on either modern day issues or, with a pooling of resources, add a few coins with a "pedigree" from the history-filled earlier years.

Whatever you decide on, your collection and knowledge will increase greatly by attending coin shows, getting acquainted with dealers, and by becoming members of the various coin collectors' associations and local clubs. Remember, this is a hobby and should not be considered as a "get rich quick" enterprise.

Not all of the family may want to collect the same type of coins. This is natural and in some ways helpful. By helping each other with their particular collection, all will benefit by the additional exposure and knowledge of various types of coins.

THE CRAZY LIFE OF A COIN DEALER

Part I

Gayle K. Pike
Memphis, Tennessee

Many of my friends think my life is very glamorous traveling around the country selling coins and jewelry. I get to fly to lots of cities, stay at hotels and eat out all the time. I must admit it has its great moments and the people are the best in the world, but then there are the other times. Typically each of us has our horror story that sends our blood pressure sky high at the time, but months later we find funny — or at least mildly amusing. We wonder how so much could go wrong in so little time! Roger Bryan, Florida United Numismatists president, recently wrote an article on one of his "adventures," but I do believe I have one that will top his.

I work and share a lot of tables with a terrific group of guys from the Detroit area. Several of these guys put on one of the Detroit coin shows which, unfortunately, usually falls on the same weekend as our Tennessee State Coin Show. This year to my delight it did not conflict and I was informed I had best be there. Since I sell a lot of jewelry, I always go to the Tucson Gem Show scheduled to begin the same Friday and run the entire week. "No problem" I thought, "I will just go straight from Detroit to Tucson."

There was a flight that left late Sunday evening from Detroit, stopping in Minneapolis and continuing on to Phoenix. In Phoenix I changed to a flight for Tucson scheduled to arrive at 9 p.m. which allowed plenty of time for a good night's sleep prior to beginning the Gem Show bright and early on Monday. NO PROBLEM? Was that a laugh!

Now, to understand my troubles you have to know a little about the airline system. The free tickets earned in the airline frequent flyer program are great as long as your flight encounters no problems. Also the free tickets require that you begin and end your flight in the same city and all travel must be on the airline issuing the free ticket. I had wanted to go from Tucson directly back to Memphis. But I was told I couldn't; so I booked a flight from Memphis to Detroit and back to Memphis a week later. I decided to use my free ticket from Detroit to Tucson and back to Detroit.

The Gem Show in Tucson is held once a year and is really about 10 different shows which are held at a different hotel for the entire week culminating with the main show at the convention center. Every hotel room and rental car in Tucson are taken for this event. So I was feeling very good. My hotel room was guaranteed. My rental car was confirmed at a very good rate and my roundtrip flight from Detroit to Tucson was free and was first class. NO PROBLEM? Boy, would those words come back to haunt me!

It all started when a friend of mine from Detroit and her fiance offered to take me to the airport on Sunday. Because we were busy catching up on all the gossip, she didn't realize she had missed the turn until we had gone several miles out of the way. A quick U turn got me to the airport 3 minutes before my flight was to leave. The ticket agent told me if I ran as fast as I could I might make the flight; but I could say bye to my bags right then. They wouldn't make it until the next flight and that wasn't until the next day. I did make the flight. I sat hoping as each baggage truck passed the plane that I would see it stop and load my bags. No such luck. So I resigned myself to spending the night without so much as a toothbrush.

I settled down with a drink and decided to get some bookkeeping done. Our 30-minute stop in Minneapolis turned into 3 hours. I had only 35 minutes in Phoenix before my flight to Tucson. Therefore when they announced that we would be a "few minutes" late because of a mechanical problem, I started to get a little worried. I asked the flight attendant what the delay would do to my connection. She laughingly replied the flight we were to pick up in Phoenix for Tucson was still on the ground there in Minneapolis. It also had mechanical trouble! I felt much better, but made a note to ask the travel agent why I hadn't been on that flight in the first place.

It wasn't long before the pilot and co-pilot came out to join the passengers for coffee — a sure sign that we weren't going anywhere soon! The co-pilot was explaining that we had trouble with the slats on the wing. It seems they didn't want to go down at the same time. We had made a rather abrupt drop on our landing approach in Minneapolis and I couldn't help wondering if that was because of the slat problem. I made the mistake of asking and discovered that this was due to the computer landing the plane "not having its act together" and didn't have everything synchronized properly. Which way is the train station? The mechanics kept hopping on and off the plane as a half dozen passengers gathered at the cockpit door to watch the captain try the slats to see if they worked together, only to see the red light indicating our wait wasn't over. Finally an announcement came for all passengers connecting in Phoenix for Tucson to deplane as they were being rerouted.

So I grabbed my briefcase and coat and hurried off the plane only to be met with an apology that because I was on a free ticket I couldn't be placed on another airline and my best bet was to hope he made up time in the air! So I called and cancelled my guaranteed hotel room in Tucson knowing Phoenix was as far as I was going to get that night — even if I made it to Phoenix. So back on the plane I went, much to the dismayed look on the flight attendant's face. A quick explanation brought me another free drink and a blanket. I had just situated myself comfortably when the announcement came that our plane was going to the hanger and we were transferring to a new plane. So 200 people grabbed kids and bags and changed planes.

Robert Lacewell — Youth Chairman
7410 Westville Dr., San Antonio, TX 78227

Merry Christmas! I hope all of you receive the numismatic gifts you have wished for.

The issue of the new American Eagle gold bullion coins provides a great opportunity, once again, to promote our hobby. Youth members should take this opportunity to tell their friends, schoolmates, teachers, and even other adults, about these beautiful American numismatic items. The United States Mint has recently issued many successful numismatic treasures to attract the attention of the non-collecting public. Examples are the George Washington half dollar, the Olympic coins, the Statue of Liberty coins, and now the American Eagles.

It is our job as numismatists to assist the efforts of the Mint in attracting new collectors. The coins have been issued, and it would be in the best interest of the hobby to promote the coins and tell others of the joys of coin collecting. Take a picture of the new bullion coins to school and give a short speech about them. Put some excitement into the hobby by spreading the news — coin collecting is fun and educational!

Books are also fun and educational, and I have found two interesting books that I would like to recommend. Money: From Cowrie Shells to Credit Cards and The Money Fun Book are two publications geared towards young people. The first book covers money in its various forms from sea shells to modern plastic credit charge cards, and includes many forms of odd and curious money used throughout the world. The second book is for younger children, and teaches them about money with large colorful pictures.

Information about the above books can be obtained by writing to:

The British Museum
Great Russell St.
London WC1B 3DG,
Great Britain

Remember to put an overseas air-mail stamp on your letter to speed its delivery.

To help promote the hobby I am offering to the first 10 young people who write to me a facsimile United States $100 bill. The front of the bill is an exact copy of the real thing in a smaller size, and the reverse is blank. It is a great conversation piece to show to your friends. Write to me at the above address requesting your free bill, I will also include one video arcade token. Hope to hear from you soon.

TNA has now seen its 26th birthday and those who have seen it celebrate all of them, know that the organization has become a great one. In fact it has become too big in one way for it to function smoothly. By this I mean that there are few convention centers in the state which can accommodate our conventions. Herein lies the rub.

We all know that the dealer is the one who pays for the shows. Without these dealers we cannot survive as an organization. Making a profit at the show, TNA or any other show, the dealer cannot remain financially able to stay in business. He must keep his stock of desirable coins available to the collector and must keep that stock turning at a profit which will enable him to provide all his needs, as well as the man who goes to the office or to the factory every day. We, TNA, must accommodate him by providing a convention which has the greatest number of attendees. No one has to say that the economy is bad in Texas, all our paychecks have suffered in the last three years. Discussion with a number of nationally known dealers reveals that some will not take a table at certain cities in which TNA has held conventions over the past several years. Yet these cities are just as much a part of the TNA organization as Houston. The question now is what to do.

Much discussion has been made by members of the board both in and out of meetings. A suggestion has been made that the TNA hold its regular spring meeting at a fixed location. Another was that TNA hold its regular spring convention which would rotate among the three largest population centers in Texas. While these may solve the needs for the dealer and for TNA, financially, this would not solve the need for ALL of TNA. Another suggestion was that one of the two above suggestions be accepted and in addition a smaller show be held in a smaller city and would swing from city to city in the fall of each year. I can remember when TNA was held in Temple in 1962. Another was held in Galveston in 1966. I feel that TNA needs to go to those smaller cities and towns as they are just as much a part of TNA as Dallas, Houston, San Antonio or Fort Worth. They must be made to

By joining the local clubs or national organization, you will find most of the members helpful; occasionally there are auctions or offers of coins for sale from other members at a very reasonable price. Most clubs have a numismatic library where books can be borrowed or studied for research. This is the key to successful coin collecting. By becoming knowledgeable about coins, your interest will grow and new collecting goals will be set. Coin collecting is fun, exciting and unlike antique car collections, your collection is easier to store.

Finally we were in the air on our way to Phoenix. I got out my airline schedule to see how quickly the following morning I could get a flight to Tucson and to figure out when my bags would arrive. Much to my horror the airline has one flight a day between Tucson and Phoenix at 8:30 p.m. which meant I could pay for the extra airfare on another carrier between Phoenix and Tucson or miss an entire day of the gem show. At this point I was a little tense!

The last 40 minutes of my flight, a small child several rows back cried and no amount of comforting from Daddy seemed to work. At that point in my trip I felt like crying too and would have cried if there had been someone to put their arm around me and tell me everything was going to be all right.

I feel that they can contribute just as well as the larger cities. While I have no solution of my very own to the problem, I cannot say that I can accept, en toto, any of the above suggestions.

If any member has a suggestion for solving this problem, please contact our president. This is every member's TNA!

Crisis Of Confidence

There is a crisis right now in the coin hobby. And it's insidious, one that results in many innocent collectors paying a serious price. Not only in money lost to deceptive claims, but also in a loss of confidence in future mail order transactions.

While others may pass this off as a risk of free enterprise, it is our goal to serve and protect the interests of our valued subscribers. By insisting that all NUMISMATIC NEWS advertisers pass a strict screening policy.

We further affirm the integrity of our advertisers by spending thousands of dollars annually on an intensive "blind testing" program and recognize their sound business practices with our seal of approval — the Krause Publications Customer Service Award.

There may be a crisis in today's coin hobby, but at NUMISMATIC NEWS we're hard at work to maintain full confidence in mail order dealing, by creating an atmosphere that fosters a fair exchange — in every transaction you make.

JANUARY 15 DEADLINE FOR CLUB SALUTE ENTRY

It soon will be time for Texas coin clubs to submit resumes on 1986 activities for eligibility in the annual Club Salute award.

The early deadline of January 15 was set due to the Texas Numismatic Association convention being held in March instead of later in the year as has been in the past.

If the TNA club representative or secretary does not take the initiative to send in the club entry, we hope there is a volunteer in your group to take on the project. Nice awards for first, second and third places are furnished by Austin Coin Club and your club just might take home one of them.

Send all entries to TNA NEWS Editor, 315 Vance Jackson C-26, San Antonio, 78201.

Please include the following in all entries.

1. Name of club and how many members in good standing.

2. When and where club meetings are held.

3. Types of programs usually held. Describe any special program held during the year and name any special guests.

4. Are numismatic exhibits a part of club meetings? Give details on any exhibit for special events or civic functions.

5. Describe any charitable activities and or donations to local civic projects.

6. Describe how club meetings and coin shows, if any, are publicized.

7. Have any special honors been bestowed on any member or the club?

8. Describe any efforts the club has made to further and encourage numismatics, and to increase interest in the club. Include the club's effort to increase membership in the club and TNA.

9. In what way does your club encourage junior membership, not only in club activities, but also in TNA.

10. Outline projects and activities the club participated in during Texas' Sesquicentennial celebration.

11. Give name and address of the TNA club representative.

VERY IMPORTANT MESSAGE!

The official call for nominations for TNA president, first and second vice presidents, secretary, treasurer and a governor for each of the 17 districts was issued in November. Any TNA member may submit nominations for president, first and second vice presidents, secretary and treasurer but only a TNA member club can place a nomination for a governor. Nominations must be in the hands of the TNA secretary no later than JANUARY 5, 1987. To be included are the nominee's acceptance, a short biographical sketch and a black and white photo. If the above is not received by the deadline, the nominee will not be included in the ballot listing. PLEASE COOPERATE.
